

Enhanced Blood Cell Activity

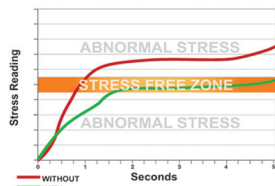

Analysis of blood cells before and after wearing Shuzi products shows enhanced blood cell shape, movement and density.

Enhanced Circulation

Through thermal imaging, the benefits of Shuzi's NVT can be seen in the form of enhanced circulation and blood flow. Other benefits commonly seen are reduced inflammation in sore joints, muscles and tissues.

Bio Meridian Testing

BioMeridian's testing positively demonstrated the immediate efficacy of Shuzi's NVT products on the test subjects and its ability to lower stress levels in the body.

Nano Vibration Technology

Every Shuzi product has been embedded with a chip containing Nano Vibration Technology (NVT Chip). Our chip has been programmed to emit subtle vibrational energy (scalar energy) which resonates with your body's natural cellular frequency.

Shuzi is intended to provide healthier blood by stimulating blood cells and allowing them to flow more freely. In many cases, tests have shown this stimulation results in enhanced circulation and reduced painful inflammation for those wearing Shuzi products.

The benefits of Shuzi have been experienced when the technology is within 6 inches of your skin.

Is Shuzi Safe In Water?

YES - All Shuzi products are water friendly.

Shuzi's NVT chip is effective both in or out of water. Be sure however not to allow your Shuzi product to find it's way into a clothing dryer. The heat from a dryer may interfere with the proprietary programming.

Does Shuzi Require Batteries?

No - Shuzi is powered by the already moving atoms within the NVT chip's structure. Shuzi's proprietary programming process is what allows those atoms to resonate at a level beneficial to our bodies when worn.
