

About ShuziPet

Shuzi is known for utilizing Nano Vibration Technology (NVT), in health and wellness products for people worldwide. NVT emits a subtle vibrational energy that, through tests have shown Shuzi to enhance circulation and blood cell integrity. Now designed for use with animals, ShuziPet enables your pet to more capably resist the effects of any stress encountered, including pests, health issues, environmental duress and other conditions that may be potentially harmful.

Years of Testing and Development

Tests involving live blood cell analysis, Thermography and FDA registered BioMeridian Stress Assessment testing have shown NVT to enhance blood flow and blood cell integrity.

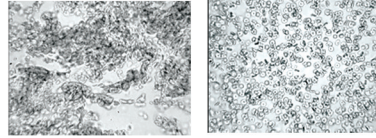

"We've had nothing but positive results with ShuziPet and I'm excited to use it on all my patients."

Dr. Gershon Alaluf, DVM

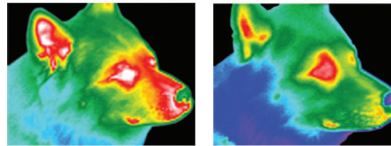

Enhanced Blood Cell Activity

In live blood cell testing conducted by Dr. Gerson Alaluf, DVM, pets showed enhanced blood cell activity after 30 minutes of wearing the ShuziPet collar and/or charm.

Enhanced Circulation

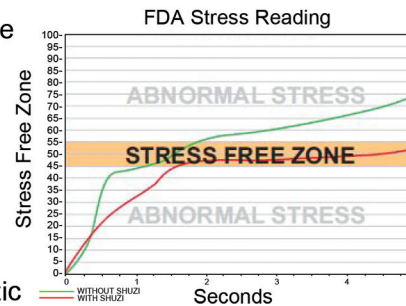

Through thermal imagery, testing has shown enhanced circulation and reduced inflammation in pets wearing ShuziPet collars and/or charms after 30 minutes.

BioMeridian Testing

BioMeridian is the world's largest manufacturer of FDA-registered Meridian Stress Assessment instrumentation, medical diagnostic equipment used by veterinarians and health practitioners around the world to assess functional health. BioMeridian's testing scientifically demonstrates the immediate efficacy of ShuziPet's Nano Vibration Technology and its ability to lower stress levels.
